Miss Mary Jane Beggy has shown us the meaning of the word dedication as no dictionary can ever define it. During thirty years of selfless service, Central students have seen dedication personified in the quiet, unassuming little lady of the library. The greatness of her life was not made up of momentous events but rather by an unending series of kindly rendered academic assists that succeeded in saving many Centralites hours of aimless library research. The devotion and personal interest with which Miss Beggy flavored thirty years of library labors has enshrined her in the memories of countless students and teachers.

KNEELING: Sam Gehring, Tom Witt, Don Leet, Mike Caruso. STANDING: Brother Carl, Brother Jerome, Gerry Dzura, Jim Butler, Gene Kail, Brother Rene, Brother John.

Above: Paul Daley's comment on the latest addition to the bulletin board draws a chuckle from the onlooking Harry Tuminello.

SKILLED SPEAKERS AND DEBATERS POST LAUREL ADENED EASON

Pausing to examine more closely the latest addition to the Forensics bulging trophy case are Don Leet and Tom Witt.

Forensics moderator, Brother Gregory Rene, briefs an attentive assemblage of his speakers (Tom Patricca, Al Vescio, Denis Guthrie, Gene Stark) at a typical after-school meeting.

McKeesport Championship Debate Tournament:

Moderator, Brother Rene is busily engaged with Jim Butler in tabulating the scores after Central's Invitational Sweepstakes Tournament.

The nucleus of Central's Varsity Debate Team (Jim Butler, Howard Dooley, Gerry Dzura, Gene Kail) utilize their mysterious "care" file in catching up on current events.

Right: Tom Witt poses with the first place trophy he won in the American Legion (34th District) Oratorical Contest.

"STALAG 17": A HUMOROUS SAGA OF WARTIME DRAMA

The advisory board of Dramatics at Central, Brother Denis Benedict (Moderator), Brother Dominic of Mary (Moderator), Miss Dinah Mathias (Choreographer), and Mr. Joseph Leonardo (Director) scan candidates for Central's second show of the year, "The Boy Friend."

Above: The daily grind of prison life is eased somewhat for Harry (Mike Caruso) and Stosh (Al Navari) by the arrival of Marko (Bill Werley), the merry mailman.

Left: Held down by the S.S. Captain (Ed Malewski) and a German guard (Harry Kusick), Hoffy (Ron Gibala) tastes the bitter lash of Nazi fanaticism.

A crude radio set provides the only link to the free world for the following truth-seeking hostages: Sefton, Price, Stosh, Harry, Duke, and Herb.

Under the anxious observation of the remainder of the chow line, Stosh (Al Navari) doles out the rations to Duke (Miles McCue).

Above: Sefton (Joe Romito) tells Price (John Hart) to lay off as Hoffy (Ron Gibala) tries to contain himself in the role of a patient listener.
 Right: Either a fight or a simulated love scene seems to be ensuing as Reed (Al Borek) releases a mysterious gesture to Herb (Mike De Angelo).

Barracks dissension reaches its climax as Sefton (Joe Romito) and Dunbar (Dave Carr) are successfully restrained from battle by their fellow prisoners.

ART CLUB
MOTTO:
"EASEL DOES IT"

Dennis Collins, Viking Rembrandt, applies the finishing touches to a potential masterpiece.

Aspiring artists Bob Pfaller, Jim Kozbelt, Dennis Collins, Frank Foley, and Henry Lipinski thoughtfully contemplate an impressionistic sculpture at the Carnegie Museum.

A modernistic gold-key winner draws the mutual admiration of Brother Jerome and Dick Sestili at the Scholastic Art Contest.

SENIORS

FRANK ALTIMORE. Overflowing with a laughter of confidence that is contagious, Frank somehow manages to make everything he does look easy. Whether scooting around end for one of his electrifying runs or blasting a fast ball into the farthest reaches of the outfield, this effervescent senior gave steady evidence of a limitless reserve of bubbling energy. Perhaps the thing that makes that big, barrel chest swell most is the fact that he is proud to be a Centralite.

VERSATILE VIKINGS

DICK BERDIK. This intense young man's trademark is a loyalty that goes deeper than mere pennant waving. Dick's leadership, coupled with a sense of good humor played no small part in making him one of the most popular students on campus. A familiar figure on gridiron, cinderpath, and honor roll, Dick operates on the conviction that mediocrity begins with second place. Four years of outstanding achievements in athletics and studies have merited for him a standout rating and have made him a natural choice for Central's "Student-Athlete of the Year" award.

BILL GRIFFITH. One who encountered this slim, crew-cut senior only in class would never imagine him to be the holder of an all-time school record in the breaststroke and the captain of the varsity swimming team. The one trait that tells the true story of Bill's winning ways in pools and classrooms is his unwavering, one-hundred-and-one-percent effort. Despite the heavy time demands of studies and swimming, Bill somehow managed to be the dynamic President of his parish C.Y.O.

PHIL HOURICAN. A highly respected senior at Central, Phil is best noted for his work as Student Council Secretary. He proved himself a capable leader not only in this office but also as chairman of the College Night and Career Day Committees. His quiet manner and winsome Irish smile have helped him procure the willing cooperation of his fellow students in the many school projects he has undertaken. Scholastically, Phil has made certain that the name Hourican appeared on every honor roll for the past four years.

SET TORRID PACE

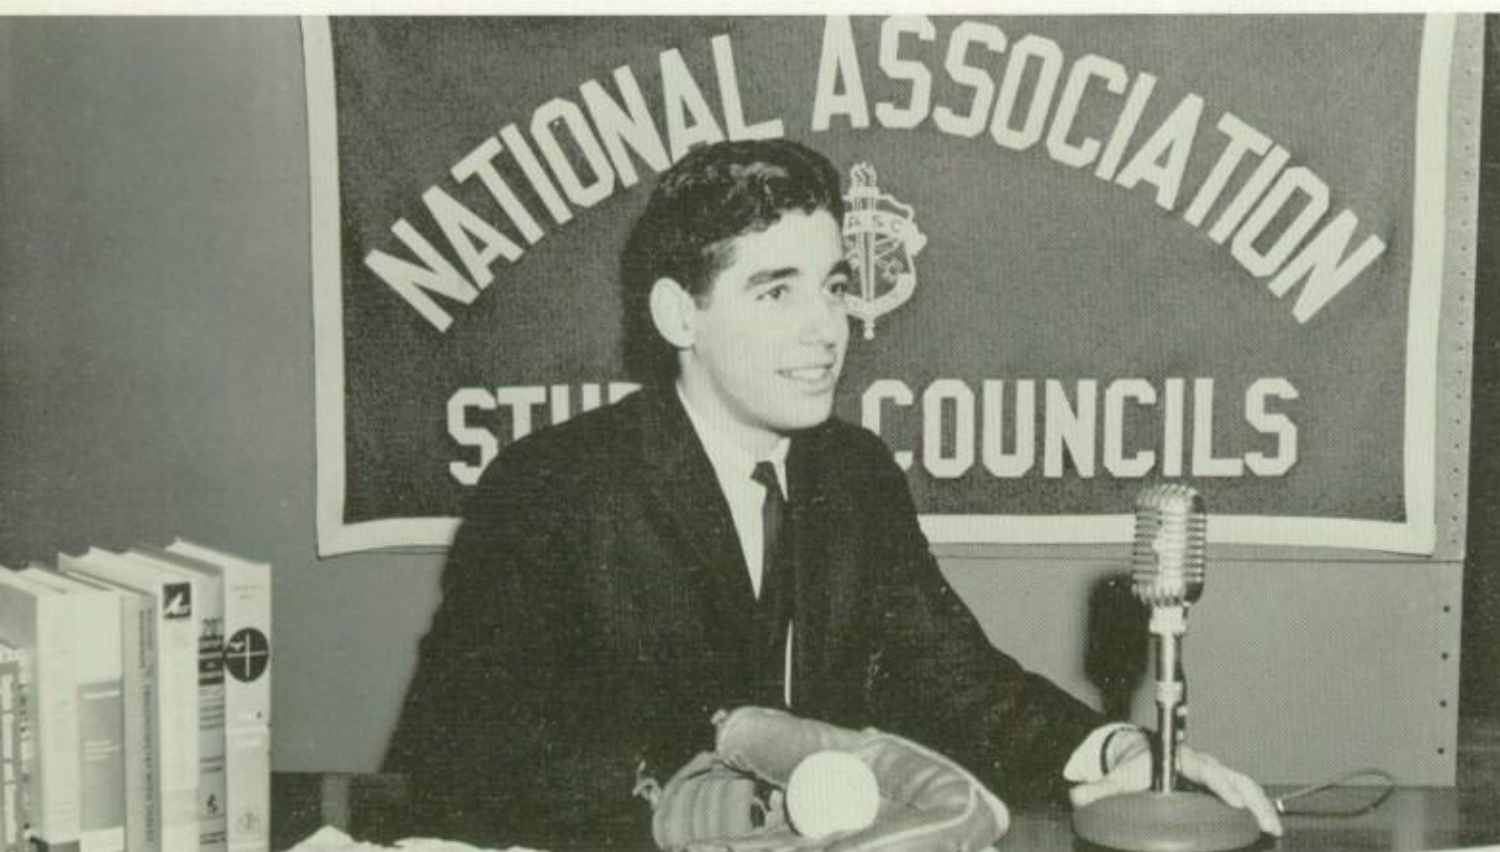

BOB MAZZIOTTI. Give quiet Bob a tricky intellectual problem or a shiny black clarinet and he will make a noise both loud and clear. His tranquil, effective reasoning explains his consistent honors rating which culminated in his becoming a National Merit Finalist. Four years of dawn-to-dusk participation in the band saw him shine forth as one of its best musicians. With a silence that is loud, Bob is certain to make himself heard in any career he may undertake.

JIM PAZERSKI. A man of action rather than words, Jim ranks among the few boys in Central's history to letter in three varsity sports during the course of a school year. Whether on the field of play or in the classroom, "Big Jim" invariably made his presence felt. So natural are athletic accomplishments to Jim that he accepts them with an air of good-natured humility that is typical of "Gentleman Jim."

ALEX SANSOSTI. "Best quarterback in the league" sums up well Alex's athletic ability but doesn't reveal the tranquil fellow who can be with you all day and not say four words. His unassuming air and calm generalship of the '61 gridders not only propelled the Vikings to their best season since 1951 but also earned him the M.V.P. award. Alex's athletic achievements are not limited to the gridiron however; as his rifle arm and lethal bat are vital cogs in Central's baseball machine.

JOHN VILLELLA. An efficient executive, a smiling diplomat, a dedicated scholar, a vigorous athlete — dashing, dark-eyed John is a mosaic of talent. As Student Council Vice President, his tactful wisdom successfully coordinated the efforts of many committees. A perennial high honor student John has always met his studies with an avid thirst for knowledge and ready willingness to learn. Whether he is acting as a smiling delegate to the administration or is just a member of a corridor crowd during change of classes, an air of professional amiability and healthy enthusiasm have established him as the type of man Central delights in producing.

DAVE ZANGRILLI. As fleet of mind as he is of foot, Dave has succeeded as an uncompromising pace-setter in fields academic and athletic. Underneath that placid exterior is a deep-rooted desire to excel. Three years of varsity competition in track and cross country highlight the athletic phase of his life. Diminutive Dave's classroom efforts were climaxed with a National Merit Finalist rating. Perhaps the item that we'll remember most about Dave is that he is at his swiftest in making friends.
